Level of Fitness

- ✓ Kakadu, Arnhemland and Kimberley are rough and rugged stone bush country. In many of the places we access and those listed in the itinerary, there are cleared walking tracks, but not boardwalks or handrails. Some of the walks are over slippery and uneven ground, and we will always advise caution when walking over these surfaces. A reasonable level of fitness & stable footing is required for most location in these itineraries and to make the most of the experience; however we can tailor-make the itinerary for a more passive experience. Please advise at earliest convenience if this is the case and we will do our best to adjust the itinerary to suit.
